

KLICNET Code of Conduct

Contributed by Dr. David Moore
Tuesday, 22 August 2006
Last Updated Thursday, 14 December 2006

WWW.KLICNET.ORG exists to facilitate responsible, constructive communication and dialog among members of the KLIC community. Sometimes, constructive communication involves controversy and lively debate. We welcome such constructive exchanges at WWW.KLICNET.ORG. However, participants who post material that is clearly unacceptable by any reasonable standard will be banned from posting additional information on the site. Please use your best judgement and be considerate of others, even as you mince apart the weak arguments of a colleague or demolish the foundations of some longstanding dogma...let there be light...and let us be light hearted!Please read the terms of use before registering and utilizing WWW.KLICNET.ORG.